We made it back home. Just wanted to thank you asking me to join in again this year. I hope I was helpful. Also, allowing us to use your guest room while my parent's visited was awesome. We really appreciated that and I'm not sure I thanked you when you got back.

Also, wanted to apologize for completely forgetting to put the coffee table back before we left. Let Pep know the base is under the stairs outside your apt. and the marble top is under the bed in the guest apt. (we took it out so Soren didn't impale himself on the base) All else is clean and ready for Mr. Serra, even left him some beef stew in the freezer.

Good luck this weekend :)
Allison

PS- I'm free this week if you can think of anything you need for me to do for your move.
